

END USER LICENCE AGREEMENT

1. Licence Grant.

Armour Communications Limited (Armour) grants you a non-exclusive and non-transferable licence to install and use the Programs in relation to your responsibilities to the entity that purchased this license from Armour on your behalf. Armour reserves the right to make corrections, improvements or enhancements to the Programs without notice to you and without obligation to furnish the said corrections, improvements or enhancements to you.

2. Restrictions.

You shall not (i) reproduce or copy the Programs (save for back-up purposes only); (ii) use, or permit the use of, the Programs in for any purpose other than as permitted under this agreement; (iii) distribute, sell, lease, sublicense or otherwise transfer rights to the Programs to any third party; (iv) reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble or otherwise attempt to derive the source code for the Programs (except to the extent applicable laws specifically prohibit such restriction); (v) modify or create any derivative works of the Programs; (vi) remove or alter any patent, trade mark, logo, copyright or other proprietary notices in the Programs; or (vii) permit any third party to benefit from the use or functionality of the Programs via a timesharing, service bureau or other arrangement.

3. Emergency Services.

You acknowledge and accept that the Programs do not offer access to Emergency Services. To access Emergency Services, you must use, traditional wireless or wire line telephone service that offers access to Emergency Services.

4. Termination.

This agreement is effective until terminated. You may terminate this agreement at any time by removing the Programs from your equipment and destroying all copies of the Programs. Unauthorised copying of the Programs or otherwise failing to comply with this agreement will result in immediate termination of this agreement and may make legal remedies available to Armour. Upon termination of this agreement, the license granted herein will terminate and you: (i) will cease any and all rights to use the Programs, and (ii) will remove the Programs from all hard drives, mobile phones, mobile devices, networks and other storage media and destroy all copies of the Programs in your possession or under your control. The provisions in clauses 5 - Proprietary Rights, 6 - Limitation of Liability and 7 - No Warranty will survive any termination of this agreement.

5. Proprietary Rights.

Title to the Programs, and patents, copyrights, database rights, trade marks and all other intellectual property rights applicable thereto, shall at all times remain solely and exclusively with Armour and its suppliers, and you shall not take any action inconsistent with such ownership. Any rights not expressly granted herein are reserved to Armour and its suppliers.

6. No Warranty.

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, Armour disclaims all warranties and conditions, either express or implied, with respect to the programs, including all implied warranties and conditions of merchantability, non-infringement and fitness for a particular purpose, or arising from a course of dealing, usage or trade practice. Armour specifically disclaims any warranty (i) regarding any underlying telecommunications network, (ii) that the functions contained in the programs will meet your requirements or will operate in combinations or in a manner selected for use by you, or (iii) that the operation of the licensed software will be uninterrupted or error free.

7. Limitation of Liability.

In no event shall Armour be liable to you for any damages resulting from loss or disclosure of data, lost profits, loss of use of equipment or lost contracts or for any special, indirect, incidental, punitive, exemplary or consequential damages in any way arising out of or in connection with the use or performance of the programs or relating to this agreement, however caused, even if Armour has been made aware of the possibility of such damages. Armour's entire liability to you, regardless of the form of any claim or action or theory of liability (including contract, tort, or warranty), shall not exceed the fees paid for your individual license. The limitations set forth in this agreement shall not exclude or limit Armour's liability for fraud or for death or personal injury arising from its negligence.

8. Exports.

You agree to comply with all applicable export laws and regulations of all jurisdictions with respect to the Programs and obtain, at your own expense, any required permits or export clearances. Armour shall have no liability for any unauthorised export of the Programs.

9. Miscellaneous.

The Programs may use third party APIs which may not be endorsed or certified by industry bodies. Armour reserves the right to modify this agreement at any time. Express acceptance by you shall constitute your acceptance to be bound by the terms and conditions of the revised agreement. The waiver of a breach of any term hereof shall in no way be construed as a waiver of any other term or breach hereof. If any provision of this agreement shall be held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be contrary to law, the remaining provisions of this agreement shall remain in full force and effect. This agreement is governed by the laws of England and Wales, and the non-exclusive jurisdiction of its courts.
